For bespoke human resource solutions throughout Luxembourg, look no further than consulting firm Eivilux. From HR consulting, interim management, training, coaching and team building, they draw on 20 years of industry experience to offer a fresh take on your HR strategy.

Founded in 2017, HR specialist Céline Campi-Blain realised many businesses wanted experts to manage their human resources. Having worked for high-profile companies such as one of the 'Big Four' accounting firms in Luxembourg, she now offers tailored solutions for businesses of all industries and sizes. "We make objective and ethical suggestions for recruitment and team structure that you may not notice internally," she says.

In an unexpected crisis, Eivilux can assess the immediate needs of a business; which might require a HR professional to temporarily take over and achieve a specific goal. "In today's climate, businesses must be reactive to change. Our services guarantee no interruptions in the case of a sudden absence." Their flexible approach can be operational from day one for however long you need.

Eivilux operates locally in the Luxembourg region, but also offers team-building packages in the sun-soaked destinations of Montpellier and Ibiza. "The White Isle is a desirable training destination, hence our hybridised name of Eivissa (Ibiza) and Luxembourg." To strengthen employee relations, Eivilux offers interactive workshops, alongside various wellness and sports activities.

Since 2011, Céline has also worked as a qualified coach developing team potential, and on top of that, offers two custom training courses: one for HR professionals and one for individuals in leadership roles.

Eivilux is founder of the only HR exhibition dedicated to HR professionals in Luxembourg, the HR LUX Trade Fair, which returns on 17 January 2020.
